RACISM, WOMEN AND THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

23 November 2020 at 14.00 (2pm) CET

The Consulta Femminile of the Pontifical Council for Culture and the women Ambassadors to the Holy See aim to contribute to the current global debate on racism. This webinar will feature a panel of women from different countries who will share their experiences of racism and their recommendations for tackling it, including ways they believe the Church can constructively address this global issue. Pope Francis has challenged us all to act, saying: «We cannot tolerate racism and exclusion in any form and yet claim to defend the sacredness of every human life».
